Mike Duncan to Lead Business Development Efforts for ComFrame's Nashville Office

Promotion to Vice President Expands ComFrame Technology Leadership Resources for Clients in Tennessee and Surrounding States

BIRMINGHAM, AL – June 4, 2009 – ComFrame Software Corporation, a leading provider of technology strategy and custom software development services for companies across the southeastern and central United States, today announced the promotion of Mike Duncan to Vice President of Business Development. In this new role, Duncan will be responsible for spearheading sales and marketing initiatives for ComFrame's Nashville, Tennessee office.

In his position as Business Development Manager for ComFrame, Duncan was instrumental in helping ComFrame clients in Tennessee and surrounding states to gain greater efficiencies through new applications, services and global delivery in the areas of business intelligence, enterprise data management, collaboration and knowledge management, user experience engineering, service-oriented architectures and other solution areas. Duncan has extensive experience helping companies across diverse industries optimize their use of Microsoft products for business advantage.

"ComFrame was named by Microsoft as a 2009 Partner of the Year for their Central Region, which includes Tennessee, Kentucky and Ohio," said Marc Guthrie, CEO of ComFrame. "Mike played a huge role in that achievement. We are excited to have him take on more leadership responsibility for ComFrame in the coming year."

Duncan has more than fifteen years of experience in information systems sales and marketing, of which two were with Microsoft. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science from Azusa Pacific University. He is an active member of the Nashville Technology Council.
